Comment Reasons:

Comment: I am writing as a resident of Wotton Way, Cheam, to express my strong support for the proposed community centre and place of worship.

As a local woman and resident, I particularly value the provision of dedicated health and wellbeing activities for women, such as Pilates and similar exercise sessions. Accessible and comfortable spaces for women's health and wellbeing are limited locally, and having such facilities within our community will be a significant benefit.

I also welcome the proposed children's activities, including day care and structured youth indoor activities. Providing safe, supervised and positive spaces for children and young people is extremely important. These types of programmes support working families, promote healthy development, and offer constructive alternatives to unstructured time.

In addition, I appreciate that the design of the building is in keeping with the local aesthetics of the area. The proposal appears modest and thoughtfully designed, blending well with the surrounding residential character rather than dominating it.

I also recognise the considerate parking arrangements that have been proposed. The inclusion of on-site parking and careful planning around usage times demonstrates that the centre has taken local traffic and residential concerns into account.

Overall, I believe this development will provide meaningful social, educational and wellbeing benefits to the local community while respecting the character of the area. I fully support the application and hope it will be approved.
