Stance: Customer objects to the Planning Application

Comment Reasons:

Comment: I object to this proposed change of use because the site sits within a mainly residential neighbourhood of family homes, and the shift to a busy place of worship and community hub would be out of keeping with the existing quiet character. The new use is likely to generate frequent gatherings, higher noise levels (including evenings, weekends and festivals), and a much greater level of visitor traffic than the former ambulance station, leading to overspill parking, congestion, blocked driveways and risks for pedestrians and cyclists.

In addition, the part one, part two storey extensions, increased height and more intensive use would make the building visually dominant and intrusive in a street of smaller dwellings, causing overshadowing, loss of privacy and a general loss of residential amenity. Taken together, these impacts would harm residents' quality of life and conflict with local policies that seek to protect amenity, respect residential character and avoid adverse highway and parking impacts, so I respectfully request that the application be refused.
