Comment Reasons:

Comment: I wanted to say how much I support the new community centre being built in Belmont.

As a grandmother living nearby, it would mean so much to have somewhere local and safe to walk to where older people can meet, talk, and feel connected, especially as it is too easy nowadays to feel alone. Travelling further away isn't always easy at my age, so having something within walking distance would make a real difference.

I'm also really looking forward to the community side of it. With my grandchildren, I'm hopeful it will help us meet other families who live nearby and build new friendships. The idea of finally feeling part of a local community excites me, as that hasn't always been easily available before.

I believe it will bring people of all ages together and be such a positive addition to Belmont.
