Comment Reasons:

Comment: I support planning application DM2025/01591 wholeheartedly. The area needs more community infrastructure and this proposal delivers it on a site that would otherwise continue to sit empty.

Some objectors have raised concerns about noise from prayers and events. The acoustic evidence shows these concerns are not well-founded. Even at the worst case, noise at neighbouring properties stays below background levels. The building is well-insulated and the hours are restricted. On a similar note, many women in faith communities are unable to access existing facilities because they are too far away, not accessible by public transport, or do not provide appropriate spaces. This proposal solves all three of those problems.

On this point, the development reduces on-site parking and removes restrictive yellow lines, actually improving the kerbside situation for residents. The claim that this development will create a new parking problem ignores the fact that the previous use had 21 parking spaces and generated regular vehicle movements.

It is also worth mentioning that the facility is within walking distance of a large residential catchment, and the evidence shows that most users will walk or cycle. The application provides cycle storage to support this. The car dependency for this use is very low compared to typical developments.

It is also worth mentioning that this is a 0. The proposal brings it back into active use for the community. 12 hectare brownfield site that has been empty since the ambulance service left. I cannot see any planning reason to prefer a vacant, deteriorating site over a well-managed community facility.

This is a good application that will benefit the area. I support it fully and ask the Council to approve it.
