Comment Reasons:

Comment:I am writing in strong support of the proposed community center. Our neighborhood needs a shared space that nurtures our youth, supports our elders, and brings our community together.

Young people need safe, positive environments where they can learn, grow, and build leadership skills. Seniors need accessible spaces where they can stay active, connected, and valued. This center would meet both of these needs while encouraging meaningful interaction across generations.

By hosting educational programs, cultural events, wellness activities, and community dialogues, the center will promote mutual respect and understanding among residents from different backgrounds. In a time when division is common, spaces that build unity are more important than ever.

Approving this project will strengthen the social fabric of our community and create lasting benefits for generations to come.
